

MorQi

Balance is your superpower.

A five-element action game where kids learn to name their feelings by freeing a frozen world. Built for kids 7 to 11. Fun for the whole family.

Fun that teaches, built in

Every level is one element's world. You win through balance, and every villain is a person stuck in one feeling. Kids learn to name each one.

A proven genre, a family audience

Survivor.io: an estimated $500M+ in its first 20 months [1]. Of US parents who game weekly, 81% play with their kids [2].
