

MorQi

Balance is your superpower.

A five-element action game where kids master their feelings by freeing a frozen world.

Fun that teaches, built in

Every level is one element's world. You win through balance, and every villain is a person stuck in one feeling who changes back.

A proven genre, a family audience

Survivor.io made $500M+ in its first 20 months [1]. 81% of US parents who game play with their kids [2].

Playable today, and it holds people

Five web levels. In playtests a first-time player went from 3 falls to 0 in an hour, and nobody wanted to stop.
